

The Smelly Footed Frog

Once upon a time there lived a young frog who often sat upon a very soft lily pad.

His name was Sniffy.
Probably because he liked flowers.

One day, Sniffy was scrubbing his toes in the pond. He felt something moving in the water!

Phew! It was his friend, Fluffy, a small fish from just up the pond. She giggled and said, "Your feet sure don't smell like flowers!"

The End

Adapted by Bartholomew Wilbercutty